Executive Summary:

This project was submitted to improve the stability and leadership of the extension programme for the EP Farming Systems Project. The project was very successful, due largely to the appointment of Neil Cordon to the position. Mr Cordon has vast experience on and was not only able to increase the quality and quantity of extension activities but also mentor on staff on EP. Mr Cordon has initiated and participated in many extension activities including workshops, paddock scale demonstrations, replicated trials, media and field days. This project was so successful that it was re-funded by SAGIT for a further two year period.
